Letter from the Village of Varna

Village residents,

The Village board is making a concerted effort to enforce the Village Ordinances in attempt to maintain the “peace and comfort” lifestyle of small-town living. Be advised that all ordinances mirror state and federal laws already in place. The board is listening and responding to villagers’ complaints but we all can play a part if we simply respect our neighbors and their property. We are asking you to remove or remove from view “unnecessary, accumulated, eyesore junk or debris” from your property, as this is the biggest complaint and concern within the village. The board is willing to assist any resident needing assistance in matters of concern. The recently approved ordinances can be viewed on the village website www.villageofvarna.com.

Definition:

Village is a noun that refers to a small community or settlement, typically found in rural areas, with a population smaller than a town or city. It is characterized by a close-knit community, often surrounded by farmland or natural landscapes.

Thank you,

Village of Varna

- ❖ To avoid fines or abatement, please keep your yards mowed per the ordinance.
- ❖ The weather is getting to be nicer, and dogs are going to be out more. Please have respect for other village residents and contain your dogs (leashes are required in town) and clean up after your dogs.
- ❖ Make sure all pets have plenty of water during these hot days.
